LITIGATION

The father of James Orosz approached the Commission regarding their judgment in the City's law suit against his son. His concern is that the Commission has no experience with this type of situation and wondered how the Commission intends to handle the responsibility; if they would accept the referee's decision 100%. The Commission said their decision would be based upon all the information provided to them. Commission Member Kennedy said each Commission member would review the information provided to them; there are strengths among the three of them and they would independently review the information before they made a joint decision.
